Sailing roundup

An informative day was held on Sunday at the club, even though the strong southerlies led to the cancellation of dinghy racing. Topics covered by Peter Fox and assisted by Peter Deane, Peter Lawson and Bruce Legg, included a review of the previous lessons and further discussion on the parts of a sailing boat including sailing theory. Afterwards, a vagabond was rigged with all participants getting a comprehensive lesson on how to rig correctly and efficiently in the correct order.

As racing was abandoned before getting onto the water, the results will stand as previously mentioned. Thanks for everyone coming down Sunday. I am hopeful (fingers crossed) we will have more luck in the future.

Don't forget to enjoy our beautiful bay...all we need now is some good weather .

Cheers,
Peter Deane
Sailing Master

Despite the very windy weather our sailing group rigged a Vagabond and enjoyed a comprehensive lesson on how to rig correctly and efficiently and in the correct order
